

February 11, 2011

During the Bush administration, I spoke on the House floor in support of a free and democratic Egypt— on this historic day for Egypt and the world, I join the many who stand in solidarity with the people of Egypt working to achieve their democratic aspirations.